FROM OUR PRESIDENT

It was great to see so many of you at our first meeting in two years! Our meeting got started later than usual but everyone was so engaged in conversations with friends I don't think they noticed.

Thanks to Steve Whitney - it was a special welcome back for members to have our long-time EAFA member and past president, Steve as our guest artist. He not only completed a fabulous landscape in gouache, but discussed the history and properties of the medium as well. Steve teaches at Arts Umbrella in Kenmore. In addition to his many awards for his exceptional work, he is a signature member of the Northwest Watercolor Society. A visit to his website is a special treat!

Our guest artist for April is Joy Hagen. An encaustic painter, her work speaks to remembered moments through selected bits and pieces from the natural world usually with reference to trees. She will be demonstrating various methods she uses in her work. A resident artist at Studio 103 in Seattle, her work can be found in the permanent collections of Swedish Medical Group in Edmonds, Redmond and Everett, and in the cities of Covington, Kent, Kenmore, and Seattle. She currently has a solo exhibit at Bothell City Hall on display through June.

You asked for an EAFA members picnic in the summer, and we responded! The picnic will be at Lakemont Community Park, 5170 Village Park Drive on Wednesday, July 20th from 10:00AM to 2:00PM. Bring your favorite picnic foods and your plein air/portable easels, etc. as we will have a model to draw or paint and there is plenty of nature to paint as well. The facility has restrooms and two covered shelters.

See you all at our regular meeting on Wednesday, April 20th - BRING A FRIEND! (Masks optional, smiles required).

Please note that effective 4/1/2022, EAFA's current mailing address ( PO Box 50446, Bellevue, WA 98015) will change to PO Box 50712, Bellevue, WA 98015

APRIL FEATURED DEMO ARTIST: JOY HAGEN

The daughter of a forester, Joy Hagen spent the first five years of her life on Basilan Island in the Philippines. Back in Seattle, summers were spent exploring logging roads, hiking and camping in the forests of the Pacific Northwest. Art was an ever-present childhood activity and she has been making art ever since. Surrounded by a forest of significant trees, Hagen lives and works out of her home studio in Kirkland, Washington.

Hagen's art depicts environments that speak to remembered moments through selected bits and pieces from the natural world, usually with a reference to trees. She creates what she calls "assembled landscapes" using encaustic medium and reclaimed wood. "I love the contrast between the soft, sensuous nature of the melted bees wax against the hard physicality of process as I scrape, burn, tear and saw. Process and subject become intertwined as I contemplate loss, devastation and erosion versus perseverance, fertility and new growth."

Hagen's work can be found in the permanent collections of Swedish Medical Group in Everett and Redmond, Swedish Medical Center Cancer Institute in Edmonds, and in the Portable Works Collections of the cities of Kent, Kenmore, and Seattle. Hagen is a resident artist and regular exhibitor at Studio 103 in Seattle's Pioneer Square area.

Oh my goodness you guys! Guess what! I got accepted into the women's painters of Washington! I'm so excited this has been a 5-year goal of mine because you know I just started a year or so before that or two and they needed certain requirements and there was no way I had that because I just started and so I've worked toward it all this time & finally hit all those requirements so I could apply!

Woohoo!
